Cancer Fighter!

HER FIGHT

2018: Diagnosed with breast cancer while 4 weeks pregnant. Despite chemo, radiation, and surgeries, Lauren delivered a healthy baby and entered remission.

2023-2024: Cancer returned, now Stage IV metastatic breast cancer, having spread to her bones and liver. After 4 treatment lines, conventional medicine told Lauren that there is no hope. But she is not one to give up!

2025: After 2 years of aggressive research, Lauren found a path to remission. But it is not covered by health insurance. Lauren started breakthrough immunotherapy treatment at the Williams Cancer Institute, and needs your help to continue treatment.

HER GOAL

Achieve Remission at the Williams Cancer Institute:

Use advanced immunotherapies that stimulate the immune system to target cancer cells. Stay alive to raise her 2 young girls.

THE COST

Current Therapies: $7,000/month regimen of integrative treatments that keep Lauren healthy and fighting.

Mission to Remission: $400K for breakthrough immunotherapy at Williams Cancer Institute + travel.
